From the President~

November 2007

As I write this short greeting for Contact, I am just amazed at how quickly the fall season is flying by, it's November already, frost on the pumpkin, warming up the car, gloves—and waking up in the dark! I'm proud to say that I got through Halloween successfully. Didn't overindulge in all the tempting goodies that seemed to surround me wherever I went, so if I can keep up my resolve as the holiday season ramps up, I'll be golden!

We're hoping for a strong turnout at our November luncheon next Tuesday, the sixth. The focus will be on networking—so bring a supply of business cards with you to share. Our member Maureen Cullen, of Love for Life Coaching will be facilitating the networking session. Sounds like the session will be interactive and lots of fun, so I hope to see a good turnout of members.

GNO 2007 is coming up quickly too—November 15th at Racebrook Country Club. The theme this year, Execs in the City, is generating some great buzz—the logo is wonderful and this year we're offering tanks and tee shirts ($10). Tickets are selling, but we're still not at our 200 goal yet. I've found that they're relatively easy to sell: they're for a great cause (Scholarships for Women in Transition)—and it's just plain fun. Between the two fashion shows, the diverse vendor tables, wine tasting, food and desserts, silent auction and raffle—you just can't go wrong! Also there will be photo opps for Girlfriend Group pictures...something for everyone! Additional tickets will be available on Tuesday too...in case you want to pick up a couple more.

We plan to connect with the three nursing homes in Milford this month to offer to collect some small gifts for the residents as we have over the past three years. We'll get some suggestions from the facilities about gift ideas that would best suit the residents along with the numbers of women and men at each location. It's a small effort that
