Women Helping Women Succeed

October 2007

Network of Executive Women addresses the common business interests and issues of women in executive, professional and entrepreneurial roles through the exchange of ideas, information, and experience.

From the President~

Happy Fall Everyone! As much as I always want to hang on to the late summer weather and the outdoor lifestyle that goes along with it, there's also so much to be said about the crisp fall days, the colors, the sleeping weather and the pick up in energy level and activity that comes along with autumn. And besides all that, truth is: it's a lot easier to ride the horse in that direction that it's running! So look ahead and enjoy this bountiful season.

Speaking of bountiful—our September Dress for Success luncheon was a great success. I don't know the exact numbers, but I believe we collected more than sixty suits to help support women in transition. The speaker was wonderful and there's a definite secondary potential connection for us with our own Scholarship Program. All I can say was that I saw some serious networking going on before and after the program concluded. The speaker was from the Fairfield office of Dress for Success, and she mentioned that there are plans underway to open another office in New Haven once space can be found. We also got some great newspaper coverage about our efforts and that's always a good thing.

Hopefully all of you have the evening of November 15th blocked out on your calendars for Girls Night Out 2007 at Racebrook Country Club. It promises to offer something for everyone with some new twists on what has become our signature event. We're counting on each of our members to bring along one or two guests—and based on the plans I've heard about so far I know you won't be disappointed. Michele Kelly, this year's GNO chair, is still looking for some more volunteers (michele@graphicwaysdesign.com) or vendors to support the event.

If any of you haven't made it to lunch since July, I want to let you know that I've had some very positive feedback about the change in the menu at Aldario's. They've really responded to our request for lighter fare for those of us that are fighting the battle of the bulge. Our next meeting is on Tuesday, October 2nd and it would be great to see you there! In addition to enjoying the remarks from our guest speaker, Judge Hartmere, we will also be trying a new networking technique at our luncheon by mixing up the seating arrangements for a change. So bring your business cards and expect an interesting speaker and the opportunity to make some new contacts over lunch.

*Be Well!
Joanne*

Models Needed

Remember the day that Miranda fit into her 'skinny' jeans? What a great feeling! Do you want to feel that good?

We are looking for models for our Execs and the City Fashion Show at the GNO. Let us dress you in CAbi (Carol Anderson by invitation) and help you feel ready to stroll down the streets of the city with the same confidence as Carrie or the sex appeal of Samantha! If you are between the sizes of 0 to 16 and ready to strut your stuff for a good cause, please contact: terrywright@optonline.net -or- 203-314-6625

Not feeling like a shape that is easy to fit? Even better! We want to teach each other how to choose clothing for different body types. When you volunteer to model, please describe your shape as one of the following: Apple, Pear, Rectangle or hourglass. Volunteers will meet to view the line and pick out their outfits with personal fittings at Terry's home in Woodbridge during mid to late October.
